AN INJURY TO ONE IS AN INJURY TO ALL

STARTING IN CHICAGO, 2012, THE CHICAGO TEACHERS UNION SAID ENOUGH WAS ENOUGH AND CHANGED THE COURSE OF TEACHERS RIGHTS

The CTU fought the right wing Democratic Party Mayoral government of Rahm Emanuel and elected a union leadership that was ready for the task. They've been fighting since, and it has been a real militant struggle.

Across the country, unknown to most of us, teachers were taking heart and fought for greater respect and fundamental economic gains: wage increases, health benefits and pension rights.

When the West Virginia school teachers went on a statewide strike few people initially payed attention. The Right-Wing state government; most likely all Trump lovers; thought they would roll over with some petty increases. They didn't! Striking teachers won total victory

The two national unions with representation in WVA: the AFT and NEA, and a local independent union responded to this upsurge with full support. Since then teachers in Oklahoma, Kentucky, Arizona and Los Angeles, CA. took to the streets to demand economic and social justice. Other teacher unions are planning to confront their state legislatures in the most militant manner.

Labor Today salutes the teachers and their struggles with our full support.
