Solidarity with the schoolteachers in Kenya

The World Federation of Teachers Unions (FISE), affiliated to the World Federation of Trade Unions, representing the militant educators all over the world, expresses its internationalist solidarity with the schoolteachers in Kenya who face poor working conditions such as poor remuneration, obligation to travel to schools in remote areas and to depend their rights for salary increase on electronic tools of performance evaluation.

FISE denounces the above practices and stands by the side of the teachers in Kenya, demanding the fulfillment of their just demands and the overall improvement of their working conditions.

We call upon the teachers and rest of workers in Kenya to strengthen their struggle for free and high quality education in proper buildings and classes with small groups of students, for teachers with dignified salaries and rights and education in the service of knowledge and development of the children of the working class.
